COMMANDER'S CALL

Comrades and Auxiliary Members,

October is here. The temperatures are finally starting to come down, football season is in full swing, and there are plenty of reasons to stop by the Post – including our new canteen menu. Before we get into what's coming up this month, let's take a look back at September.

The MOC/MOCA started the month with a flea market on 5 September and also led a fundraising effort to purchase a smoker for the Puller Veterans Care Center. Thanks to everyone who helped make that happen. They will soon have a nice, large smoker that should get plenty of use and serve them well for years to come.

Labor Day brought the launch of our new canteen menu. If you haven't tried it yet, stop in and check out some of the new items. You can also take a look at the menu on our website before you come in.

On 11 September, we held our 9/11 Remembrance Ceremony in the canteen. This year marked 25 years since the attacks, and several of those in attendance shared their own memories and experiences from that day. Hearing those personal stories was a powerful reminder that, even after 25 years, the events of September 11 remain very personal for many of us.

Post 1503 hosted the Department School of Instruction in B-Hall on 12 September. We also had a special visitor when National Commander-in-Chief Cory Geisler stopped in to observe and answer questions from the members in attendance.

September also meant the return of NFL football. We did a little extra work behind the scenes so the three Trivia TVs can now carry the games on Sundays. That gives us a few more screens around the canteen and, hopefully, a better chance of finding your game. No promises that your team will actually win.

On 18 September, the Hylton High School Air Force JROTC joined us for our POW/MIA Ceremony in the canteen. The cadets have participated with us for several years now, and they continue to do a fantastic job. We also recognized the Air Force Birthday as part of the ceremony.

Looking Ahead, October Is Going To Be Another Busy Month...

- 10 Oct – MOC/MOCA Cornhole Tournament
- 13 Oct – US NAVY 251st Birthday
- 17 Oct – Author Showcase
- 28 Oct – Movie Night
- 31 Oct – Trunk or Treat
- 31 Oct – Halloween Party

You'll find more information about the Cornhole Tournament and Author Showcase in the flyers later in this newsletter. Be sure to come out and support both events if possible.

Halloween will be a busy day around the Post. The Auxiliary will hold its annual Trunk or Treat in the back parking lot, and later that evening we'll move inside to A-Hall for our Halloween Party. We'll have entertainment along with a costume contest, with cash prizes for the top three costumes. The party is free and open to members and their guests.

Because we'll have entertainment in A-Hall that evening, we will not have separate live entertainment in the canteen. The jukebox will be available for anyone who wants to hang out there instead.

Finally, as we head toward the November election, I want to give everyone our regular reminder about politics at the Post.

The VFW is a nonpartisan organization, and our membership includes people with all kinds of political views. We may disagree about candidates, issues, and what should happen on Election Day. That's part of being involved in the process, and everyone is entitled to their own views.

But when we walk through the doors of the Post, those disagreements need to stay outside.

People come here to relax, enjoy some camaraderie, have a meal or a drink, watch a game, and spend time with fellow veterans, family, and friends. Nobody should have to worry about getting pulled into a political argument while they're here.

Vote! Be involved. Support the candidates and causes you believe in. Just do the political debating somewhere else.

The Post is for camaraderie, not politics.

I'll see you around the Post.

Mental Health Awareness

World Mental Health Day 2026 is on Saturday, October 10th. Mental health awareness for military service members and veterans is especially important, given the unique challenges they face during and after service. World Mental Health Day can serve as a reminder to support veteran-focused programs and resources that address issues like PTSD and reintegration into civilian life.

Both the Military Order of the Purple Heart (MOPH) and the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) offer a range of mental health resources and programs specifically designed for veterans.

The Military Order of the Purple Heart:

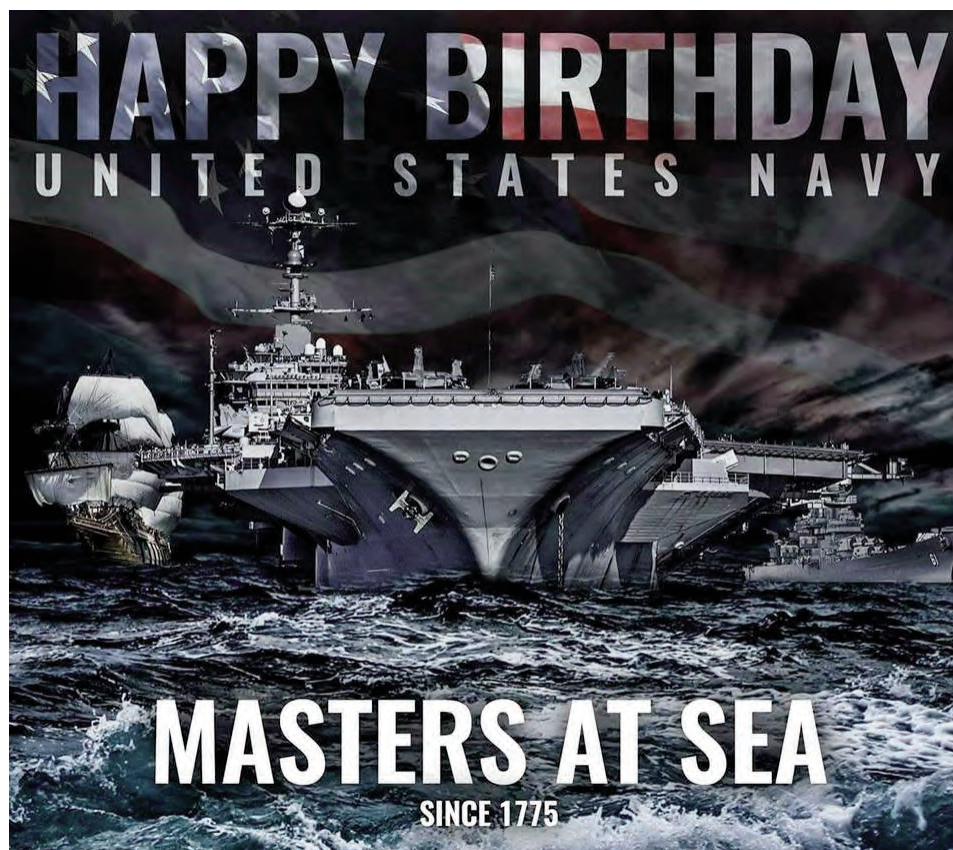

- They provide access to the Veterans Crisis Line and the VA's mental health support resources, which include counseling, suicide prevention, and caregiver support
- They partner with organizations offering mental health assessments and support for conditions like PTSD, anxiety, and depression. They also offer programs such as yoga and music therapy to support emotional healing

The Veterans of Foreign Wars:

- The VFW runs a Mental Wellness Campaign and partners with groups like Give an Hour and One Mind to reduce stigma and provide mental health resources
- They offer access to digital mental health tools, mindfulness apps, and resources tailored for veterans and their families. They also work to promote community support and awareness through local VFW posts and events

Howdy! The Cooties and Cootie Auxiliary are keeping busy as we should be. The Auxiliary is planning a hospital visit in October and the flyer is here in the newsletter. The Cooties are proud to say our effort to buy a smoker for the Puller Veterans Care Center was a success with the $7,700 needed being raised in just three weeks. A special thanks to the Post, MOPH Chapter, and several individuals who chipped in to make this happen.

Not So Random... ...Acts of Kindness

"Give to the one who begs from you, and do not refuse the one who would borrow from you."

Matthew 5:42

We are all familiar with the concept of random acts of kindness. These are those small, often unexpected, helpful, or thoughtful gestures performed for someone else without any expectation of reward or return. These acts are about offering kindness and support intended to have a positive impact on others, whether they are friends or strangers.

It is important to remember when we are discussing “acts” of kindness that we are not simply referring to deeds or overt acts, but also kindness in the form of words and attitudes. We have all seen a store clerk berated for something out of their control because it satisfied someone’s frustration. Being gracious, polite, understanding and not being hard-hearted during difficult moments is also an act of kindness.

Now, let’s discuss the idea of “not so random acts of kindness.” These refer to intentional, deliberate, and regular acts of kindness, versus spontaneous, one-off gestures. These acts foster a habit of giving and help us incorporate kindness into our daily routines.

There are two basic distinctions between random and non-random acts: Opportunity and Intention. An act of kindness may arise from an opportunity that presents itself suddenly and unexpectedly. While another act of kindness may occur because the actor is aware of a need and intentionally makes a conscious choice to give, to help, to share and to soothe.

Here’s the cool part – if we adopt a life “practice” of intentionally acting in kindness when opportunities to help others suddenly and unexpectedly appear, then these are no longer random acts of kindness. The kindness arises from an intention to “be kind” followed by an action. While the act may be directed toward anonymous people or friends, the person’s act of kindness is anything but random — it is deliberate and directional — and not random in nature.

God instructs us to “be kind” and when we display kindness in our deeds, words and attitude, we are emulating God. We know what to do. We just need to do it.

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, Almighty God, give me eyes to see and ears to hear so that I can be a source of comfort and support to those in need, and lead me to value others above myself. Father, I know that kindness is not always easy, especially when I encounter difficult people or situations. I pray that you would give me the strength and wisdom to respond with grace, kindness and love. Amen

FACILITY HAPPENINGS

The month of September is behind us and we are ready for October. The Post has several big events planned for our members and guests to come out and have a good time. On October 24th we have a band playing in the pavilion and we will have cigars for sale, bourbon and wine tasting. Come on out and enjoy yourself. We are also planning a special Oktoberfest menu that will last the entire month.

As I mentioned in the last meeting we will be conducting a 100% ID check at the doors and if you have guests please print your name in the guest log, and remember that your guest cannot purchase food or alcohol. Lastly on the side of Kiosk we have a sign that says maximum payout on tickets $2,600.00. Bartenders will not cash your ticket if it's over that amount.

Have a great month, and Happy Birthday to all October born members.

MILITARY HISTORY EVENTS AND SITES IN THE VIRGINIA, MARYLAND, AND WASHINGTON, D.C. AREA – October 2026

October 2026 carries the America 250 year into autumn with two of the most consequential military stories in the region: the 245th anniversary of the Yorktown campaign that secured American independence, and the 162nd anniversary of Sheridan's stand at Cedar Creek that helped break Confederate power in the Shenandoah. Add the Navy's birthday, living-history weekends, and new memorials on the Mall, and the month rewards anyone willing to walk the ground.

Yorktown Victory Celebration (October 17–18, 1781 / 2026) The American Revolution Museum at Yorktown marks the 1781 Allied victory that forced Cornwallis's surrender. Expect artillery firings (typically 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.), Fifes and Drums of York Town, interpretive programs on the siege, and first-person portrayals of Washington, Rochambeau, Cornwallis, Joseph Plumb Martin, and Alexander Hamilton at Redoubts 9 and 10. Historic Yorktown's Victory Weekend (October 16–19) adds concerts and waterfront programming. Military personnel and immediate family often receive free or reduced admission on designated days – confirm at jyfmuseums.org and va250.org This is the capstone Revolutionary battlefield in Virginia.

Colonial Williamsburg Reenactor Weekend: “To Heed Washington's Call” (October 3–4) Williamsburg interprets Virginians preparing to march north in 1776 after driving Lord Dunmore from the colony. Programming centers on the Virginia Line, the Public Store, riflemen, and the civilian labor that equipped the army. Rifle demonstrations and encampment life run throughout the weekend. Details and volunteer information at colonialwilliamsburg.org Strong companion visit to the 250th anniversary programming for First Baptist Church (October 8–11) in Williamsburg.

Battle of Cedar Creek Anniversary and Reenactment (October 17–19, 1864 / 2026) Cedar Creek Battlefield Foundation hosts the large annual reenactment on and near the original ground at Middletown, Virginia (8437 Valley Pike). Infantry, cavalry, and artillery demonstrations, living-history camps, and talks interpret Sheridan's October 19 counterattack that reversed Early's dawn surprise. Confirm spectator hours, parking, and any park-led anniversary walks at ccbf.us and nps.gov/cebe Pair the weekend with a quieter visit to the preserved fields if the reenactment crowds are heavy.

U.S. Navy Birthday and Capital-Region Observances (October 9–13) The Continental Navy was authorized on October 13, 1775. Local markers include a Navy Birthday PubCon in Washington on October 9 and wreath and ceremonial activity at the U.S. Navy Memorial on Pennsylvania Avenue. National Navy 250 programming continues nationwide; check navy.mil/Navy-250 and navymemorial.org for D.C. times. The Navy Memorial remains one of the best free stops for sailors, Marines, Coast Guardsmen, and families.

Additional October Highlights

- Battle of the Hook commemoration, Gloucester County, October 2 – honoring American and French troops in the Yorktown campaign's Gloucester action.
- Revolution on the Rappahannock / Hunter's Iron Works, Falmouth (Stafford County), October 10–11.
- 28th Annual Conference on the Art of Command in the Civil War, Middleburg, October 2–4, focused this year on Mosby and partisan warfare in Northern Virginia (piedmontheritage.org).
